WILSON'S CHOICE FOR NOMINATION MAY NOT BE KNOWN

PRELIMINARY POLITICAL STRATEGY EXPECTED TO KEEP HIS SELECTION A DARK
SECRET

Republican Food Administrator Is

Convention—Eastern Politicians Start for San Francisco

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—There was a growing belief among democrats here today that the San Francisco convention may end without indication as to who is President Wilson's choice for the democratic presidential nomination.

The men who entertain this belief admit their theory is based on what they believe the president will regard as good political strategy and that it may be knocked out.

Democrats point out, however, that there are a number of presidential possibilities acceptable to Wilson and for him to select anyone of them would unite against that man during the convention and afterward all the anti-administration feeling within and without the democratic party.

Politicians said Wilson could allow the San Francisco convention to run to a point where the nomination of some one man could be easily accepted. He could then quietly pass the word to his followers to swing the administration backing to that man. If that course were followed, the presidential decision would probably not be known.

Wilson today was reported to be preparing a message to the San Francisco convention. It was anticipated that this message would deal only with issues, principally the league of nations.

Michigan for Hoover

Detroit, Mich.—Herbert Hoover, defeated candidate for the republican presidential nomination, will receive the support of the entire Michigan delegation on the first ballot at the democratic national convention, leaders here declared today.

"I shall vote for Hoover on the first ballot out of respect for the primary law," said Judge William F. Connolly, democratic national committeeman.

Part of the delegation have announced their intention of standing by Hoover as long as he has a chance for the nomination.

French Lick Fades Out

French Lick, Ind.—After additional sessions of golf today and Friday, Charles Murphy of Tammany Hall, Governor Smith and their party, will proceed to Chicago from where they will start for San Francisco and French Lick will assume its normal position in the country's affairs.

Not that there was any particular reason for French Lick inhabiting the front pages but the presence of the New York leaders with Thomas T. Gart, Illinois democratic leader, permitted lengthy speculation which will probably subside only with their departure.

Leaders Close Together

Los Angeles, Cal.—Gov. Cox of Ohio, William G. McAdoo and Attorney General Palmer "will not be far apart" on the first ballot of the democratic national convention in San Francisco, Norman Mack, democratic national committeeman from New York, predicted today.

Mack passed through here today in company with E. H. Moore, one of Cox's campaign managers, enroute to San Francisco.

Mack declined to discuss the prospective platform except to say that New York would vote for a wet plank. He is a member of the New York delegation.

Cox a Strong Candidate

Moore declared Gov. Cox is a "progressive" and is "strong both with labor and capital" and that he would carry Ohio over Harding if nominated.

Both Moore and Mack declined to comment on "third party" movements and refused to discuss the republican platform.

Drys, Peeved At G. O. P., Are To Enter Race

Prohibition Leader Avers Republicans
Have Dodged Wet and Dry Issues—Hope for Little Better
From the Democrats.

By United Press Leased Wire
(By Don E. Chamberlain.)
Chicago.—The prohibition party, disappointed at the nomination of Senator Warren G. Harding by the republicans and at alleged rebuffs given its representatives at the G. O. P. national convention, is planning a presidential ticket, Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, declared here today.

Little hope is held that the democrats will put up a 100 per cent prohibition candidate, said Hinshaw.

"We want something more than a candidate," he said. "We want a dry plank and a dry ticket."

The republicans, dry leaders charged, "ducked" the issue. A telegram was dispatched today to United States Senator Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the republican resolutions committee, asking an interpretation of a clause in the platform which Hinshaw said placed the G. O. P. on record "to repeal the arrogant challenge of any class and to maintain the government by all the people instead of by some of the people."

Drys believe this clause was aimed at them.

Senator Harding will not be accepted by the prohibitionists, said Hinshaw. A statement explaining its refusal to support Harding probably will be made within a few days.

The same objection to Harding will apply to Governor Cox, of Ohio, whether the latter is nominated for the first or second place of the democratic ticket, William G. McAdoo has the endorsement of the drys, but they said they would not take him unless he has another dry man on his ticket and an "air-tight" dry plank in his platform.

Hinshaw said drys have already begun preparing for a presidential campaign. Names mentioned as possible candidates include William J. Bryan; William Shaw, general secretary of the World's Christian Endeavor; Robert H. Patton of Springfield, Ill.; Clinton N. Howard, Rochester, New York, famous prohibition orator, and William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, of Baltimore.

SUFFS WILL USE BIG STICK ON NOMINEES

RATIFICATION OF SUFF-RAGE AMENDMENT

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Suffragists are to appeal their fight for the ballot to the republican nominees for president and vice-president, they said today.

Both Senator Harding, republican nominee, and his running mate Governor Calvin Coolidge, are to be asked what they intend doing toward final ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, according to Alice Paul, head of the National Woman's Party.

Miss Paul also said suffragists will picket Harding during his speech accepting the republican nomination.

The Women's Party will send a delegation to San Francisco to the democratic national convention, Miss Paul declared, "but there will be no picketing."

"Suffragists will insist on action of the republicans and if they fail to act, the National Woman's Party will call a national convention of the American woman voters, and we will ask these voters not to support any candidate or party that is responsible for delay in the ratification of the suffrage amendment."

DOG SUICIDES BY JUMPING 3 STORIES

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee, Wis.—He was just a dog of no particular breed, but he must of had a heart and a conscience for he deliberately killed himself by jumping from a third story window, just as many a despondent person has done.

Employees of the Ho's Proof Hosiery Company noted the little fellow come into the factory trying to avoid the gaze of workers. He scampered up the stairs to the third floor, and hiding behind desks and machines, worked his way across the floor to the side of the factory facing the street.

He spied an open window, and leaped into the still. He tumbled down into space while workers behind stopped their machines to watch. Then he jumped.

A passerby stopped and touched him. He was dead. All four legs had been broken. A call to the humane society brought a wagon and the lifeless body was taken away to be buried.

To Pull Votes From Democrats

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Leaders of the proposed third party pin their hopes of capturing the fall elections by a large addition of democratic strength to their ranks, according to A. W. Rickert, a member of the executive committee of the committee of forty-eight, here today.

According to Rickert, liberals expect to cut into the strength of the democrats more than into the republicans.

Of more than a score of states picked out for a concentrated campaign, half are democratic. The others are normally republican but several went democratic at the last elections.

Three states are now listed in the liberals as certain for them. They are Wisconsin, Washington and North Dakota.

States like Minnesota, Montana and Idaho are expected to be secured but no definite claim is made by the progressives.

In Colorado, South Dakota, and Nevada supporters of a third party believe they have a fighting chance. State organizations have been completed in more than thirty states and considerable support is expected from New York, Maryland, Massachusetts, Florida, North Carolina, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Nebraska and Illinois.

Committee of forty-eight conventions will be held at Mitchell, S. D. Saturday and at Lincoln, Neb., next Tuesday.

Look For Big Vote

With a membership estimated above a million, the combined organizations hope to poll several million votes.

A big vote is expected if U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, can be induced to stand as the third party's presidential candidate.

The labor party which claims a membership of 750,000 ordinarily could throw its support to the democrats, according to Rickert, "but this year that vote is not going to the democrats or the republicans," he said.

After Women's Help

To swing the women voters, liberals are endeavoring to induce Jane Adams to join their movement. Alice Paul, militant suffragist, and Mary McDowell, head of the University of Chicago settlement, are said to have declined.

REPRESENTATIVES OF GERMAN

CONFER WITH AMER-ICAN CAPITALISTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Detroit, Mich.—Alfred Coleman, V. E. Doerr and O. Melzer, representatives of the Zeppelin Company of Germany, conferred with Henry L. H. here today, presumably regarding American bids to Zeppelin outfit.

No results of the conference were announced.

The Zeppelin representatives are at a dinner with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, it was believed here. They occupied rooms at the Statler hotel here which were reserved for the Goodyear company.

It was learned today that Colonel Aldrey I. Washburn, William B. Mayo and other Detroit men interested in the promotion of aviation construction industry are allies of the proposed visit of the German representatives last week.

It was understood that the three men here today comprise half of a delegation which left Germany several weeks ago with the purpose of interesting American capital in commercial production of the Zeppelins.

The Zeppelin patents, it was understood, are being placed on the market in order to raise capital for the hard pressed German industry.

No statements were given out regarding the results of the conference with Ford.

Lexington, Ky. A girl who a first name is the same as that of the mysterious "Anna" mentioned by New York authorities in the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy furman, was found here today. She readily told of her acquaintance with Elwell.

She is a brunette and pretty, about 20 years old. Police here do not attempt to connect her with the girl referred to by New York authorities who advanced the theory that Elwell was shot by a relative of a Lexington girl.

"Anna" told police she had been introduced to Elwell by a well known society woman. She said she had accepted his invitation to dinner.

"Later I became ill and went to a hospital," she said, "and when he heard I was there, he sent me flowers. When he left Lexington, I received from him a farewell note which I answered in a most formal and impersonal way, merely thanking him for courtesies he had shown me."

"That, no doubt, is the note they found among his possessions in New York."

During his visit to Lexington, Elwell was received in exclusive social circles, being much in demand at whist and bridge parties. At one party he lost $800.

Second Examination

New York.—Victor Von Schlegell, divorced husband of Viola Krauss, was today examined for the second time in the investigation into the murder of Joseph Elwell, whist expert.

Miss Krauss was with Elwell and three others the eve of the murder and had an engagement with him during the day.

Richland Center.—Flood here has resulted in damage estimated at $600,000 while 200 persons have been driven from their homes.

The Parfrey Manufacturing company, of this city, sustained a loss of $50,000 when its dam gave way. Nine or ten county bridges were washed away by the high water. Thousands of dollars damage was done to crops.

Milwaukee.—Many Wisconsin towns were recovering today from a cloudburst that swept the eastern section of the state late yesterday and last night, flooding many towns, and causing thousands of dollars property damage.

Thousands of persons were driven from their homes in Center City, when the Menominee river swept from its banks. Wauwatosa also was inundated. The main street there, it was reported, was under seven feet of water.

Dangerous washouts on the Superior and Northern divisions of the Milwaukee road caused cancellation of trains. Serious washouts were reported at Lockfield, Wis. At Oconto Falls, a school house was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire which followed.

PRICES FALL WHEN ITALY STOPS BUYING

"NO BUYING" MOVEMENT DEVELOPS
INTO NATION-WIDE
DRIVE TO REDUCE PRICES

(By Camilla Cianfara.)
By United Press Leased Wire
Rome.—The "no buying" movement begun by the middle classes two weeks ago has developed into a concerted drive by consumers to reduce prices of food and clothing, resulting in many cases in decrease of thirty per cent, according to figures made public today by the minister of the interior.

The movement today received the official approval of Pope Benedict, when all employees of the vatican announced they would participate in the effort to reduce prices.

A number of civic and labor organizations and many clubs have pledged their membership not to buy articles of luxury.

The movement has gained strong hold at Milan, Turin and Genoa and is spreading rapidly throughout the country.

One Rome newspaper, which promised to carry advertisements of any store making a 25 per cent reduction without charge, has given up the idea, as in one day the newspaper received enough advertisements to fill all available space for two months.

LYNCHING BEE TUES-DAY NIGHT

By United Press Leased Wire
Duluth.—County Attorney Warren E. Green convened his special grand jury to probe the lynching of three negroes, here Tuesday night, at 11 o'clock today.

Green announced the original case against 16 negroes charged with assaulting a young white girl, will be presented to the same grand jury. The assault on the girl resulted in the wrecking of the police station and the hanging of three of the negroes by a mob estimated at more than five thousand persons.

Submission of evidence against the lynchers is expected to take several days, Green said. He could not estimate the number of witnesses that would be called. He would not attempt to estimate the number of indictments that may be asked of the grand jury.

Duluth, Minn.—Leaders of the mob that wrecked the jail and lynched three negroes Tuesday night were to be examined by County Attorney Warren E. Green and his assistants today. Many arrests are expected.

Police and sheriff's deputies were able to name a large number of participants in the lynching. Meantime prosecution of the negroes arrested in connection with the assault on the seventeen-year-old white girl at the circus grounds, which caused the lynching, is going forward.

Green issued warrants making statutory charges against all the negroes held.

The ten negroes arrested, at Virginia were brought here late yesterday under guard of state troops.

Duluth was quiet today, the carnival spirit that followed the lynching apparently having passed.

DRESS TOO THIN; PRIEST REFUSES TO MARRY HER

By United Press Leased Wire
New Orleans.—Catholic circles were stirred today by the refusal of Father Antoine, rector of St. Louis Cathedral, to marry a young couple until the bride donned another dress.

The priest said the bride wore a diaphanous gown and had little more than a piece of gauze above her waist.

Ordering the lights of the cathedral turned off, he told the girl to leave the church and not return until she had changed her clothing. The young woman, the daughter of a wealthy Italian, returned an hour later wearing another gown and was married.

HARDING INVITES ALL REPUBLICANS TO FALL IN LINE

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON IS IN-CLUDED IN NOMINEE'S IN-VITATION TO GET ON BAND WAGON

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Senator Warren G. Harding today extended an invitation to every faction of the republican party to join in his campaign for the presidency.

"All republicans look alike to me," Harding said.

Harding added that invitations have also gone out to leaders of all republican groups to meet and confer with him and that he will see personally as many of them as possible.

One of Harding's advisors today explained that it is not his wish "to be a one man candidate any more than he will be a one man president if elected."

Asked if his invitation to republican leaders included Senator Hiram Johnson, Harding said:

"I also expect to see all of my senate colleagues. Our relations have been most cordial."

Close friends of Senator Johnson express the opinion that Johnson will be on the stump for Harding next fall. They said Johnson was "coming around all right," although he has not flatly told them that he will take an active part in the campaign.

Senator Morse, New Hampshire, one of Major General Leonard Wood's managers, called on Harding today.

Others callers were: Senator Lodge, Massachusetts; Senator Brandegee, Connecticut; Senator Francis, Maryland; Major General Miles and Congressman Walsh, of Massachusetts.

Harding received word today from the American Club of Pittsburgh, that they desired to march with 500 in line carrying red, white and blue umbrellas up to Harding's house in Marion. The Hamilton Republican Club of New York City, wired Harding that on motion of Nicholas Murray Butler, defeated candidate for the nomination, a resolution endorsing the Harding-Coolidge ticket was adopted.

ITALY WANTS MORE OF SPOILS OF WAR

NEW ITALIAN GOVERNMENT EX-PECTED TO PRESENT DE-MANDS TO OTHER ALLIED NATIONS

(By A. L. Bradford)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Italy is dissatisfied with her share of the fruits of the war, and Premier Giolitti and his new government will take a firm stand in demanding of the other allies what is regarded as Italy's just rewards.

It was believed by diplomats here today, the formation of a new Italian cabinet to succeed the fallen government of Premier Nitti, will also mark a firmer and more conservative internal policy in Italy, it was predicted.

The two most important international questions which the expected change in Italian policies will probably affect are the Adriatic ambroglio and Italy's proportion of the German indemnity.

Premier Giolitti in response to public opinion in Italy, may revert to Italy's original stand and insist upon fulfillment of the famous pact of London. In general, Italian troops are now occupying the territory which Italy was given under the pact of London. The direct negotiations which the Nitti government was carrying upon with the Jugo-Slavs for a settlement of the Adriatic controversy have been suspended.

RAIL OWNERSHIP RESOLU- TION RESEMBLES PLUMB PLAN LEAGUE

FOLLOWS SHARP FIGHT

Gompers Warns That Government Ownership of Railroads
Will Deprive Workers of Their Vote

By United Press Leased Wire
Montreal, Que.—Government ownership and democratic operation of railroads was demanded in a resolution passed today by the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. The language of the resolution was the language of the Plumb plan league, although the league was not specifically mentioned.

The vote was 29,659 to 8,349. It came at the end of a two day battle, the bitterest which has torn organized labor in years.

The result was a complete defeat of Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the Federation. It is regarded as the only real setback Gompers has received in years.

Cheers shook the convention hall when the vote was announced. Miners and railroad workers combined to bring about Gompers' defeat.

Gompers fought hard to kill the resolution, personally taking the floor just before the vote. He received no applause. Gompers warned that under government ownership two million railroad workers would become government employees. Government employees, he declared, were deprived of many political and economic rights under Presidents Cleveland, Taft and Roosevelt.

Among those who fought Gompers were secretary, Morrison, Secretary William Green, of the miners, President W. H. Johnston, of the International Machinists' Union and Delegate James Franklin, of Boilermakers' Union.

The Gompers faction early in the fight raised the cry of "socialization of American industry." They made it clear they favored government control but were opposed to government ownership. The resolution as passed read:

"Whereas, the organization represented by delegates endorsing resolution and several others, have been and are now doing everything possible to educate the American people to the seriousness of the railroad situation and for adopting something for perfecting the country's transportation systems in order to provide more adequate and cheaper transportation and to eliminate the sinister influence of railroad corporations from our national life;

"And whereas the railroad question is international question it is also a social question and it is far more than a question of dividends to stockholders or the wages of employees, it is question that involves every industrial activity of the nation;

"And whereas we believe that the continued operation of the railroads under the provision of the transportation act of 1920 neglects all these questions and makes their solution impossible and we further believe that the provisions of this act providing for a subsidy and the utilization of public funds by private individuals is a betrayal of the public interest and is subversive of the traditions of our country, and

"Whereas the above mentioned labor organizations have after careful deliberation and by instructions of their respective memberships, adopted and are advocating a plan providing for government ownership and democratic operation of the railroad properties, therefore be it

"Resolved that the fortieth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor go on record as endorsing the movement to bring about a return of the systems of transportation to government ownership and democratic operation, and be it further,

"Resolved, that the executive council members be and are hereby instructed to use every effort to have the transportation act of 1920 repealed and legislation enacted providing for government ownership and democratic operation of the railroad systems and waterways."

Had Been Amended
The resolution as passed is practically identical with its language as originally introduced by Delegate Franklin, of the boilmakers, President Johnston, of the machinists and many others of the railroad group.

When the resolution was reported yesterday by the resolutions committee it had been amended to read government control instead of government ownership. President Gompers control the majority of the committee. Delegate Franklin brought in a minority report restoring the government ownership clause to the original resolution. Others who signed the minority report were J. W. Morton, of the stationery fire-

49 ALIENS BECOME MEMBERS OF UNCLE SAM'S FAMILY TODAY

EXEMPTION FROM DRAFT CAUSES SEVEN APPLICATIONS FOR CITIZENSHIP TO BE DENIED

Forty-nine aliens, including three soldiers who had served overseas, were admitted to full citizenship at a hearing before Judge E. V. Wagner in circuit court this morning. The naturalization examiner was Attorney George N. Danielson of Appleton, whose headquarters are at St. Paul.

Citizenship was denied seven applicants who claimed exemption from the selective draft during the war on account of being aliens. They were: Ernest Max Mueller, 969 State street, Appleton; Arthur Ernest Piehocki, rural route No. 2, Appleton; Stanislaw Zmyslony, Little Chute; Joseph Strobl, 1039 North Division street, Appleton; Kurt Max Haertl, 901 Winnieboro street, Appleton; Paul Emil Robert Hanneemann, 892 Summer street, Appleton; Franz Xavier Linger, Kimberly.

Examiner Danielson had a certificate from the war department in each of the above cases stating that the above named had claimed exemption on account of alienage, thereby preventing the draft boards from compelling them to serve in the army. All were German subjects except Strobl, an Austrian.

Those admitted to full citizenship were: Joseph Muellemans, Petrus Rooyakkers, John C. Vanthimbergen, Johannes A. VanRoy, Hubert Vandel Loop, Wilhelmus Waetendonek, Henry Martin Timmers, Henry Timmers, Wim DeYoung, Henry J. Dupont, John Van Sonbeck, Geo. J. Koenen, Johannes T. Jacobs, Peter Lamber Paters, Henry Kortz, Nikolaus Kiofss, Carl E. W. Senkowsky, Michael Kettenhofen, Chas. Riesenweber, August C. Viestentz, Frank T. Wenzel, Herman F. Meinberg, Ludwig F. Wright, John Suet, Julius Deryckere, Nicholas Mertz, Simon P. Bogaert, Edmond DeTheir, Sr., Geo. Edward Bortymann, Geo. Wilmet Sherman, West. H. Sherman, Glatz Mostozky, Abraham Kaminsky, Israel D. Segal, Ludwig F. Wright, Wm. Fred Krause, Karl Strobl, Sebastian Braun, Henry Hubert, John Fred Mollett, Nicholas Mergen, John Majeres, Joseph Klein.

Examiner Danielson said that many men who were born in Germany or Austria cannot understand why they were not notified to appear in court and receive their second papers today, as their petitions have been pending a long time. The reason is this: The United States is still at war with Germany and Austria and no subject of those countries can be admitted unless their first papers were over 2 years old when war was declared. Those Germans and Austrians who were made citizens today all had first papers over 2 years old when war was declared. Those who did not appear had first papers less than 2 years old when war was declared. War was declared on Germany on April 6, 1917 and on Austria on Dec. 7, 1917. Some men think they are treated unfairly when not called into court but the examiner is simply enforcing the Federal statute.

Wheat in History.

The Romans introduced wheat into Great Britain. They did not have to carry it far, because before they invaded Britain they had conquered Gaul, the France of modern times, and the Gauls were growing large crops of wheat when the Romans crossed to the western islands. The Britons began to grow wheat, and the Saxons continued the work. Still, through the Middle Ages the bread of the poorer classes was made of flour from the coarse grains.

FLEMING ESTATE BRINGS ON BATTLE

SECOND COUSIN OF WEALTHY RECLUSE IS APPOINTED ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE

Edwin Donahue, Watertown, was appointed administrator of the estate of David Fleming, deceased, following a hearing Wednesday afternoon in county court. A petition signed by Thomas Boyle, Chester, for appointment of B. J. Zuehlke, cashier of the Appleton State bank, as administrator, was contested by Mrs. Julia Donahue, mother of the appointed, with the result that the court refused to grant Mr. Boyle's request.

Evidence was introduced to show that Mr. Boyle was a second cousin of the deceased and that Mrs. Donahue was a first cousin. Mrs. Donahue's mother and Mrs. David Fleming, mother of the decedent, the testimony showed, were sisters. The court held that Mrs. Donahue was entitled by law to nominate an administrator and she named her son Edwin, who resides with her on a farm near Watertown. Bond was fixed at $75,000.

The plaintiff was represented by Rooney and Grogan, and by W. J. Donahue, Bartlesville, Okla. The former were retained by Mrs. Donahue to probate the estate.

Mrs. Ella Carley will leave this afternoon for Madison, where she will spend two weeks attending the commencement exercises of Wisconsin University. Her daughter Verna is to graduate from the letters and science college.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Nearby.—At the Knights of Pythias convention here Wednesday the following officers were elected for the year:

Grand chancellor, Henry A. Staab; vice chancellor, William Smiding; prelate, Arthur Gillett; keeper of records and seal, M. M. Gillette; master of the exchequer, Otto C. Knellm; master at arms, Arthur A. Schuman; inner guard, Fred C. Larsen; outer guard, Fred W. Gilman; trustee, Edward S. Rhodes. The next place of meeting will be announced later. La Crosse has asked for it.

Edward D. Sager has been elected assistant secretary of the First Trust company. He recently resigned as secretary of the water works board and accepted a position with his present company. Now the directors have honored him with the office of assistant secretary.

APPLETON ELKS TO TAKE PART IN BIG CHICAGO MEETING

LARGE DELEGATION WILL ATTEND GRAND LODGE CONVENTION — MILWAUKEE MAKES PLANS

Appleton Elks are preparing for the Grand Lodge region at Chicago, July 5 to 12. A large delegation will attend at least some of the sessions and Appleton will contribute to a float that is to appear in the mammoth parade.

Several Wisconsin cities are planning distinctive stunts in the parade. Green Bay is forming a huge drum corps which is to be financed by one of the leading business men. It is also understood that Oshkosh is planning special features. The only effort to be made here is to secure as large a delegation as possible.

The State Elk association is arranging to raise a fund of $1,500 or $2,000 to prepare an elaborate float with which to honor Wisconsin. Each order will be asked to contribute $50 or more. The idea of the officials is to spend a liberal amount of money and effort on one good float for the entire state instead of having each city provide one of its own. Appleton plans to contribute its share.

The big day of the Chicago gathering is Wednesday, July 7. The parade is to take place in the evening. Special trains are to run from all parts of Wisconsin on that day, bringing the delegates there early in the morning. Fare and a third has been granted by the railroads for the round trip as a special inducement. More detailed plans are being worked out by a committee for presentation at the next meeting.

Plans will also be under way shortly for the Elk "Round-up and Carnival Supreme," which is to be held at Milwaukee September 4 to 11. Milwaukee lodge No. 46 is planning to make it eclipse any function ever held in Wisconsin.

Practically every fraternal, civic, commercial and industrial organization of Milwaukee will participate and it is expected that the state troops will be mobilized as an escort to the American Legion. There is to be a great carnival parade, flower parade, fraternal society parade, an industrial parade, a military parade, and most important of all, an Elk parade.

Seven entertainments are to be given at the Milwaukee auditorium, including an old-fashioned Elk initiation ceremony. The carnival will wind up with a great ball at the auditorium for the benefit of the Elk band.

Every lodge in Wisconsin and neighboring states is asked to attend the carnival in a body and to take part in the Elk parade. Milwaukee lodge has outgrown its present club house and plans to erect a new one costing a million dollars. The old one will be given to one of the members holding the correct admission ticket. David S. Rose, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has urged Appleton Elks to participate in the carnival.

RECEIVE CEMENT FOR DALE-MEDINA HIGHWAY

Groinke Bros., who have the contract for building four miles of concrete pavement on the Dale-Medina road, have just received two car loads of cement which makes only three that have arrived this season. They have not been doing any road work for some time on account of lack of material, but will resume operations soon to the extent of making use of the cement which will cover about half a mile. At present only half the work has been completed.

WARM WEATHER NEEDED FOR STRAWBERRY CROP

Home grown strawberries have made their appearance in the local groceries. They are fairly well ripened and are of good size. Prices range from 40 to 50 cents for a quart box. Dealers say that if warm weather returns within the next day or two there will be an abundance of berries on the market.

MENASHA PLANS BIG DOTY CENTENNIAL

Elaborate preparations are being made for the Doty centennial, to be celebrated in Menasha July 5. The program will commemorate arrival of James Duane Doty, one of the builders of the state, in the Fox River valley.

An immense pageant depicting the arrival of Doty and an exploring party, will be staged. Parades, patriotic speeches and other entertainment will be provided. Music will be furnished all day by the Ninth Regiment band of Appleton.

MAIL SEIZED DURING WAR CAN BE RECOVERED

The postoffice has received notice that registered and insured mail containing valuables that was seized during the war may now be obtained by the owners or forwarded for delivery. The orders read that any time up to December 1, 1920 requests sent by registered mail to "L'Etat-Major de l'Armee, 2 Bureau, 231 Boulevard St. Germain, Paris," will receive attention. The letters should contain the name and address of sender, date of mailing, name of city where mailed, number of registry or insurance, and address to which to be returned or forwarded.

BADGER DEMOCRATS WANT BEER PLANK

DELEGATE GUIDICE BELIEVES ENDORSEMENT OF WET IS. SUE WILL HELP PARTY IN WISCONSIN.

By United Press Teased Wire. Milwaukee.—A fight for a light beer and wine plank in the democratic platform will be put up by the Wisconsin democratic delegation to the San Francisco convention, Joseph Guidice, secretary of the state committee, let it be known today.

The Badger delegation will leave for the California city Saturday. "We favor a sane enforcement of the eighteenth amendment," Guidice said. "Nobody wants restoration of the old conditions and the saloon evil, but the people should be permitted to have light beer and wine in the home. Such a pledge by the democrats will insure success and will probably result in the party sweeping Wisconsin this fall."

Wisconsin is one of the strongest republican states in the country. The Wisconsin delegation it is said, will boost Governor Smith, of New York, for nomination as the democratic candidate for president.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN BUYS SPINNING WHEEL

George Eberhart, proprietor of the second hand store at 591 College avenue, has just purchased another spinning wheel which he immediately shipped to Mrs. Harold Green, wife of the Milwaukee real estate dealer who placed her order several weeks ago. The machine was in a good state of preservation and the purchaser was willing to pay a fancy price in order to get possession of it. It was the second machine that Mr. Eberhart has bought this summer. The other was taken by Karl Schuetter. While there are still quite a few spinning wheels in existence there are very few on the market as they are being held as heirlooms.

HARDING MAKES GOOD HIS CHILDHOOD BOAST

Dr. George T. Harding, Mrs. Heber Volaw. Marion, Ohio. "I'm going to grow up into a great man and become president my day."

That is Warren G. Harding's boast who he was 12 years old, according to his father, Dr. George T. Harding, who is still practicing medicine here.

"It was on Washington's birthday in 1877," said Dr. Harding. "The church bell were ringing. Warren was playing with some boys in the back yard. They stopped to listen. Then Warren first announced his candidacy."

Dr. Harding was 76 years old the day his son was nominated, and Senator Harding will be 57 years old on Nov. 2, 1920 election day.

Harding's sister, Mrs. Heber Volaw, was for 11 years a Baptist missionary in Burma. Later she has been doing social service work in Washington.

SHANNON CAPTURES 35 POUND MUSKIE

H. A. Shannon, clerk of the court, has returned from a several days' fishing trip to Gilmore lake near Tomahawk. He brought home a muskellunge, forty-nine inches, in length and weighing thirty-eight pounds, which he caught shortly before leaving for home. He was nearly an hour in landing his prize, which for the first twenty minutes remained close to the bottom of the lake. After that time it came to the surface and endeavored to free itself from the hook. Mr. Shannon was using a reel

TRAINS ARE DELAYED BY TRACK WASHOUT

Night trains of the Chicago and North-western railway from the south were several hours behind schedule. Train number 205, due here at 6:12 o'clock in the evening did not arrive until 10 o'clock and number 101 due at 11:37 made its appearance at 2:30 o'clock this morning. LENROOT'S WARNING
Senator Lenroot's comment upon the nomination of Mr. Harding for president will reflect the views of a great many Republican progressives. The Wisconsin senator frankly says he is disappointed in the selection of the Chicago convention, on the ground that it is a reactionary choice. Senator Lenroot says "there is general dissatisfaction on the part of progressives," who feel that a man allied with the liberal wing of the party should have been nominated.

That this dissatisfaction is keenly felt, and that it may lead to serious results, is indicated by the further warning of the senator from Wisconsin that "if when elected president, Harding shall adopt reactionary policies and be controlled by the old guard, I shall be among the first to join a new political party with policies that are constructively liberal and not destructively radical." The reception which has been accorded the Chicago ticket in progressive circles shows that Mr. Lenroot is not alone in his decision to qualify his acceptance of Harding as the national leader.

The plain fact is that the liberal element of the country, which is heavily in the majority, does not like the nomination of Harding. No amount of qualification can alter the fact that the candidate is an old guard selection, that his sympathies, so far as they are indicated by a rather colorless public record, are with the reactionaries and that he owes his nomination exclusively to their control of the convention.

For the last twenty years, commencing with Theodore Roosevelt's administration the Republican party has been divided into liberal and conservative wings. The former have ranged from moderate progressives to extreme radicals, while the latter have covered various degrees of reaction, to the most intense. A struggle has been going on for control of the party organization by these two factions, but up to date the reactionaries have invariably won. Today they seem more strongly entrenched than they were four and eight years ago. The Republican party still stands, then, as the great exponent of reactionary government and legislation.

It is patent, we think, that this is a situation which cannot continue indefinitely, and that it contains forces which are likely to break up party alignment in the country and bring about a political reorganization fundamental in character. The progressives in the Republican party will not always submit to old guard dominion. We are inclined to believe they have stood it about as long as they will.

The Democratic party is beset by the same division and is threatened with the same schism. It too has a liberal and a reactionary element. We do not know whether it is possible for the bourgeois of both parties to combine, because this would involve sectional complications, but there is no good reason why the liberals should not come together and consolidate their forces. They are in substantial accord. In fact, there are no real differences between them.

Progressive policies have come to mean the same to Republicans and Democrats. It is logical, therefore, that they should unite, place reaction in a minority position where it can do no harm and insure to the people for years to come liberal government. That is the great political issue of the day and it lies back of every specific question before the people. Liberalism versus reaction must inevitably be fought out to a finish. The Republicans have chosen the latter proposition in fact, their organization never has deviated from it. Senator Lenroot warns them this is the last time. In case Harding is elected and becomes an old guard president there is no doubt about the accuracy of Lenroot's prophecy. A liberal party will spring up, and it will draw its strength from both the old parties, which in many respects have outlived their usefulness and are today serving no purpose much beyond that of vehicles on which politicians may ride into office.

2 DEMOCRATS FACE TROUBLE, TOO
The Democrats have troubles ahead of them as well as the Republicans. The presidential campaign is not going to be easy sailing for either party. The Republicans managed to compromise their internal differences, but they also compromised themselves with many independent voters, including the labor element. The Democrats are pinning their hopes on taking advantage of the "openings" left by their adversaries, but they are far from united on a plan of action.

On the league of nations issue it may be regarded as certain that the San Francisco convention will endorse the position of President Wilson. It will have to take its stand squarely for the Versailles treaty, including the league covenant. There is no other course left to it. This will not please Mr. Bryan, who is for the league with reservations, and who is also out of harmony with the administration on other policies.

But the great stumbling block is prohibition. There is a formidable and well organized coterie of leaders which demands a wet plank, that is one favoring modification of enforcement to permit the sale of beer and light wines. These men, and they are astute politicians, believe that such a plank would rally to the support of the Democratic ticket all of the liberal element which is dissatisfied with prohibition. They also figure it would help to hold the labor vote.

But a great barrier lies between them and this scheme. Mr. Bryan would never consent to such a plank. He would rather be dry than be president, and he would rather have an arid country with any president than a Democratic president at the price of moisture. The nomination of Cox on a wet platform which the Democrats believe would carry Ohio and New York, would force Mr. Bryan to bolt the ticket, and that would be disastrous.

The industrial question is another difficult problem. The Republicans failed to please organized labor, and it remains to be seen whether the Democrats will be able to do any better. Doubtless an effort will be made to straddle many issues, but there are two or three which cannot be evaded, including peace and prohibition. The fight over the latter in particular will equal in interest the strife in the Republican convention over peace.

Today's Poem
by EDMUND VANCE COOKE

THE GROOM
(A Leap-Year Lyric of the Joyous June)
O, the day is golden glorious and the Cupids' prank and perch
In the branches of the lordly elm outside the sombre church.
Within the Mendelssohnian march is wafting its perfume,
As down the aisle, on mama's arm, behold, the blushing groom!

O, will he ever be as fair, as freshly fair, as now
With the orange blossoms trailing from his rare and radiant brow?
O, will he in the days to be, O, will he ever falter
And wish he might retrace the steps now leading to the altar.

For there his bride awaits him, with her best maid at her side,
And her eager eyes devour him with a fond, possessive pride.
She clasps his trembling hand in hers and, as the slow words linger,
She slips the golden circlet on his slim and lifted finger.

O, may she ever be as true and may his faith hold fast!
May her strong arms ever guard him from the rude world's bitter blast!
And may he trust her tenderly and never rue this day
When his loving lips have shaped the words "to honor and obey!"

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
NOTED PHYSICIAN AND AUTHOR.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

OLD PIEFACE
A man or woman must be fairly big or broad, not in a physical sense, in order to meet the casual stranger with a genuine smile. By a genuine smile I mean one that comes from the liver or the splanchnic pool or somewhere, not just from the corners of the eyes. An artificial smile is enough to chill the bones of a lizard. If it can't be genuine it ought to be kept out of sight.

Recently established a number of new contracts in a strange city. First had to seek service in an automobile establishment. The austerity of an office man who received visitors was almost churchly. The next man higher up was only a wee bit less stiff. But when the head guy was finally reached he hadn't a darn bit of dignity in the place. Isn't it always so?

The British army authorities believe in physical training, same as the U. S. army authorities do. But the British seem to favor play exercises to teach young men proper posture and poise as well as to remedy their common weaknesses. But the British seem to place a greater value upon fun as part of the game. They are undoubtedly right. If exercise is to be of real value it ought to be pleasurable, not a painful task. If you don't enjoy your exercise you do not get the full benefit of it. You simply must laugh or feel like laughing.

There are far too many old stiffs in business life and in social life, too, much imitation gravity, too much false dignity, not enough genuine good nature. I think this arises largely from lack of physical education, neglect of daily exercise, mollycoddling, overeating, in short, the inevitable ill health and weakness which so many people, ignorant from the eyebrows down, bring upon themselves by their wrong mode of living.

Genuine smiles are certainly a strong asset in business and in social life. But the fake smile has been too freely employed. You can't fake a smile any more effectively than you can fake friendship or religion or patriotism. It is better not to try. Even a little child knows a genuine smile a block away. There are some facial muscles which are under voluntary control and will do very well for a fake smile. But there are other muscles of expression which are not under voluntary control, and these refuse to play tricks.

Some people imagine they look quite fetching in a drug store complexion. They do by poor lamplight. But not when the light is right. You feel sorry for them.

It is exactly the same with people who think they can put over the fake smile.

To these very important personages I always feel like saying: "Go take a couple dozen rolls for yourself. Old Pieface."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Benefits Toward Numerous
1. What are the benefits derived from drinkin' tea and coffee? 2. Would you advise one who has not yet acquired the habit to leave it alone? 3. Are substitutes beneficial, or were they merely invented to take the place of coffee, which, I think, has no food value? (C. M.)

ANSWER—1. For adults, good nature, good cheer, good digestion, warmth of the heart, and contentment of the soul. 2. Unless he is a child or a neurotic or something. 3. They are neutral, indifferent, insipid, invented to please the queer prejudices of nervous people.

Thirteen
I would like to ask you how old a girl should be before she wears corsets. I am thirteen and my mother does not want me to wear them, because she says I don't need them. (Miss A. D.)

ANSWER—If she wants to be healthy, strong and have a good figure, she won't wear 'em ever. Of course you don't need them. No woman needs them when she begins wearing them—but in a few years she becomes quite dependent on the artificial supports, just as people become dependent on arch props, crutches and the like. If you receive as good an education below the neck as you are receiving above the neck, you will never need corsets. This is not just the theory of a mere man; thousands of enlightened women today wear no corsets.

Consumption Next Door
A man in the room next mine has consumption. There is a door between his room and mine, but it is never opened. Is there any danger that I may contract the disease? (W. S. F.)

ANSWER—No danger if you do not associate intimately with the man.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Benefits Toward Numerous
1. What are the benefits derived from drinkin' tea and coffee? 2. Would you advise one who has not yet acquired the habit to leave it alone? 3. Are substitutes beneficial, or were they merely invented to take the place of coffee, which, I think, has no food value? (C. M.)

ANSWER—1. For adults, good nature, good cheer, good digestion, warmth of the heart, and contentment of the soul. 2. Unless he is a child or a neurotic or something. 3. They are neutral, indifferent, insipid, invented to please the queer prejudices of nervous people.

Thirteen
I would like to ask you how old a girl should be before she wears corsets. I am thirteen and my mother does not want me to wear them, because she says I don't need them. (Miss A. D.)

ANSWER—If she wants to be healthy, strong and have a good figure, she won't wear 'em ever. Of course you don't need them. No woman needs them when she begins wearing them—but in a few years she becomes quite dependent on the artificial supports, just as people become dependent on arch props, crutches and the like. If you receive as good an education below the neck as you are receiving above the neck, you will never need corsets. This is not just the theory of a mere man; thousands of enlightened women today wear no corsets.

Consumption Next Door
A man in the room next mine has consumption. There is a door between his room and mine, but it is never opened. Is there any danger that I may contract the disease? (W. S. F.)

ANSWER—No danger if you do not associate intimately with the man.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Thursday, June 29, 1895
The Rev. Perry Miller of Marinette was an Appleton visitor.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schreiter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schreiter at Manitowoc.
George Bissing was critically ill.
The Neenah Cycling club gave a lantern parade in which several Appleton wheelmen participated.
The street lighting committee of the common council inspected the street lights the night previous and suggested some improvements.
R. P. Riard, who for several years had been in the employ of O'Keefe & Orblison left for Milwaukee to take a position with Oscar Sanner, specialist in bridge work.
The taking of the state census was to begin the following day. The enumerators were: First and Fourth wards, M. K. Gochnauer; Second and Sixth wards, John Driscoll; Third and Fifth wards, James Pearson.
The sixth annual convention of the Epworth League of the Appleton district opened at Kaukauna. Among those who were to deliver addresses were Dr. Samuel Plantz, C. O. Merica, the Rev. H. R. Haylett and J. J. Jerome of Appleton and Robert Quayle of Chicago.
Lawrence university elected three new trustees, John Paville to succeed the late Dr. Paine; Alex J. Rold to take the place of the late D. G. Ormsby; and W. W. Cooper of Kenosha to take the place of W. G. Whorton.
Morris Reed of Seymour, fell from the loft of his barn, fracturing several ribs.
Green & Schreiter were advertising summer underwear at 19 cents. One fine lot of Balbriggan was being disposed of at 25 cents per garment.
The trustees of Lawrence university elected the following officers: President, Robert McMillen; first vice-president, E. M. Beach; second vice-president, Emory Stansbury; secretary, E. S. McChesney; treasurer, H. P. Haylett; fiscal agent, C. O. Merica.

HEARING ON FARM LOAN ACT SET FOR OCTOBER 11
Washington.—United States Supreme Court has set Oct. 11 for hearing for the reargument of the case testing the constitutionality of the Farm Loan Act, ordered last April. The Farm Loan Board expects a speedy decision, as this lawsuit has tied up the Federal farm loan system for several months. The hearing on the constitutionality of the Lever Act as amended in 1919 will also be heard Oct. 11.

THE BOOK OF ANN
Why Can't Ann Be Satisfied With What She Has

Ann behaved pretty well all next day, although she paraded her cigarettes before Daddy Lorimer; that was a mistake, but one of which I never thought to warn her. Women smoke openly everywhere, now-a-days, and most men approve of it, in women of other clans. Daddy doesn't mind it at all when he sees a society woman smoking with artistic smartness. In fact, I've seen him light a cigarette for many that one pretty girl, but never, oh never, for a Lorimer woman!

It was a comfort to put in a peaceful day with Ann. But I think that hereafter I will distrust such calm as probably foretelling a tempest.

At least this one did. However, I discovered that Ann could be very likeable if she wanted to be, and I resolved not to betray her indiscretions to my husband. I'd try to be a real sister. I wouldn't let the brothers criticize her.

Finding her likeable, I wondered why Ann couldn't be satisfied with what she had—with her handsome Jim—and the Lorimer connections—and the Lorimer wealth. Why couldn't she conform—and settle down—in the good old ways? She had everything, from my point of view, but looking at life as lots of girls see it, I realized that Ann didn't think she "had everything," unless she basked eternally in the admiration of many men! She had the show-girl idea of what makes life worth while. She was crazy about her beauty—crazier about things to adorn it, and crazier of all about men to behold it. She didn't really love daintiness and art for themselves. When it came to personal grooming, she took none too much pains. She considered Claude Ives a critic of a beautiful woman beautifully dressed. That was her one silly reason for spending so much time with him. I felt sure.

Next morning Chrys and I were planning new beds in the Lorimer gardens, when we saw Ann starting out for a ride accompanied by Brooks, the head groom.

Ann made a very smart picture in her breeches and coat, and her stiff little hat with a rubber band under her chin. We commented on her with genuine approval and waved a sisterly farewell as she passed by. I knew it pleased her greatly to trail a groom when she rode out, and therefore I was thoroughly surprised to see Brooks coming back alone inside of half an hour. His very attitude bespoke his protest.

Chrys beckoned him to her and put her query briefly:
"Brooks, where is Mrs. Lorimer?"
"In the broad boulevard, Miss Lorimer. Bound for—for White Point. I left her at her own request, Miss Lorimer."

Chrys started to ask another question, then checked herself.
"Very well, Brooks," she said, and the man departed. As soon as he was out of hearing, Chrys turned to me.
"Now she's done it!"
"I guess she has, this time," I agreed.
"Why, oh why, did Jim, Jr., add that girl to our burdens," Chrys groaned.
"He didn't. Ann added herself," I volunteered.
"She's as stubborn as a peacock," Chrys continued. "She'll never stop running around with Ives, not of her own volition. She doesn't care a thing about the man either. Just set on not minding—vain, too—wants his opinion about her clothes, of course, and the first thing we know, there'll be a scandal!"
"You're getting excited, Chrys," I remarked. "Better read your Chinese philosopher and calm your nerves."
"My comfort, dear Jane, is in you. I suggest that you—that you take Mr. Ives away from Ann!"
"A nice sisterly thought!" I exclaimed. "Be a little heroine yourself, dear Chrys!"
"My dear, I'm a candidate for matrimony, some people believe. Mr. Ives would jump at the chance to propose to me. No such chance with you—and you're experienced—you'll know how to keep him from making love to you."

THE OLD AND NEW
The old times—the old times—We sing 'em high an' low;
But the new times are the brightest that we ever hope to know!
The old times had the sunshine; but 'twas all too bright to last!
An' we're facin' of the future, with thanksgivin' for the past!

The old times the old times! I know the stars wuz bright,
An' the sun came up the hillside with a rosy round o' light;
The flowers wuz bloomin' round us, but they withered jes' as fast;
So we're facin' of the future with thanksgivin' for the past!

The old times the old times! But ain't the skies so blue?
An' don't the dear stars twinkle down the blessed dreams to you?
We're thankful for the joys of old—the joys too sweet to last—
So we're facin' of the future with thanksgivin' for the past!

Democratic Convention Snap-Shots
The Story of 16 Nominations
By A. H. VANDENBERG

THE CONVENTION OF 1888
When the Democratic National Convention of 1888 assembled in St. Louis on June 5, its function—so far as the Presidential nomination was concerned—was purely that of providing a formal ratification of the indisputable opinion of the country. President Grover Cleveland was re-nominated unanimously, without even a formal vote being taken. He was the first candidate since Van Buren, in 1840, to be thus honored.

The death of Vice-President Hendricks in the first year of his term, however, left the second place on the ticket open to contest, and from this contest the Convention gleamed its only real color and excitement. It proved to be a contest between A. G. Thurman of Ohio and Governor Isaac P. Gray of Indiana. It also proved—in its spectacular and demonstrative phases to be a contest between "high white hats" (which were worn by Gray's friends) and "red handkerchiefs" (which were flourished by the friends of Thurman, who always used a bandanna himself). The "bandannas" won. On the first ballot Thurman polled 690, Gray 105, and John C. Black of Illinois 25.

S. M. White of California was temporary chairman of the convention, and Patrick A. Collins of Massachusetts was permanent chairman. The resolutions were without new or unusual feature. One plank endorsed the pending "Mills bill" for a reduction in the tariff; another complained because the Republicans had refused statehood" to Washington, Dakota, Montana and New Mexico; and a third expressed sympathy with "the efforts of those noble patriots, who, led by Gladstone and Parnell, have conducted their grand and peaceful contest for home rule in Ireland."

In the outcome of this campaign, Benjamin Harrison was elected president.

To be continued tomorrow with the story of the Convention of 1892.

FRESH AIR KIDDIES COME HERE IN JULY
WANT MORE APPLETON PEOPLE TO TAKE MILWAUKEE CHILDREN FOR TWO WEEKS IN SUMMER.

The first group of undernourished children from the Milwaukee factory district has already been arranged for and will arrive here the second week in July. They will be cared for in the homes of many of the prominent families in the city.

Mrs. H. E. Nicholson, chairman of the committee which has charge of arranging for the children, is anxious to have more children come to Appleton. All that is required of the hosts and hostesses is to give the kiddies a place to sleep and eat and play for two weeks. The children are not sickly; they just have not had enough to eat and enough fresh air. A special corps of doctors examine the children twice before they are sent out. Many communities are caring for as many as forty children. The committee has set its mark at fifty and still has room for a good many more people to sign up. Anyone wishing to take a child or two may notify Mrs. Nicholson.

LAWRENCE PROFS WILL KEEP BUSY DURING SUMMER

LECTURE WORK AND STUDY WILL OCCUPY MINDS OF FACULTY MEMBERS FOR FEW MONTHS

With the close of their work at the college, Lawrence faculty members are rapidly leaving the city. Few of them are looking forward to an idle summer. Lecture work or study is planned by most of them.

Dr. Otto P. Fairfield left yesterday for the east where he will do lecture work with the Redpath Lyceum Bureau. His first lecture will be at Niagara Falls Friday. The last lecture will be sometime in September when Dr. Fairfield will return here for the opening of college. Dr. Fairfield is head of the Department of Art at the college and his lectures will be on various subjects of art.

Dr. Louis C. Baker, professor of modern languages at the college, will take the summer school course at the University of Grenoble, France, this summer. He has been given a year's leave of absence and expects to spend it in France doing further work in the study of the French language.

UNCLE JOE EXHIBITS HIS GALLUSES

"UNCLE JOE" CANNON

Chicago. — "Just like a circus," said "Uncle Joe" Cannon, vet congressman, as he watched the goings on of the Republican National Convention. And when the sessions began to get warm he removed his coat and sat with his galluses right out in public view. Cannon is only 84 years old and says the youngsters are entitled to front seats. He had one.

AUTO TIPS OVER IN COLLISION WITH CYCLE

Collision of an automobile carrying Barne, Lamers and Miss Coal Faust, Kaukauna, and a motorcycle carrying Carl Heise and Ernest Boelter, Appleton, late Wednesday evening at the corner of Union and Pacific streets resulted in injury to Mr. Boelter and damage to both machines. The automobile was going north on Union street and the motorcycle west on Pacific and the two machines came together with force sufficient to overturn the closed touring car. Boelter was taken to a physician's office in the city ambulance, where it was found that his leg was bruised and his right side injured above the ribs. He was taken to his home at 630 Durkee street later. He was riding behind Heise, who drove the motorcycle. Both machines were put out of commission by the collision.

ANOTHER HOMER ADDED TO RUTH'S LONG STRING

CHICAGO.—Babe Ruth cracked out his eighteenth home run of the season on Wednesday, driving a homer in front of him, and sent New York so far in front that Chicago was unable to overtake them, the visitors winning, 7 to 4. The game was delayed forty-five minutes by a rain in the eighth inning.

The New York slugger, in addition to hitting his circuit drive, made a triple which fell just a few feet from the fence. He walked on two other occasions and grounded out once. Faber pitched good ball in the early innings but weakened later. Score: New York 7, Chicago 4.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS WIN SEVENTH STRAIGHT, 2-1

ST. LOUIS.—St. Louis scored its seventh straight victory, winning Wednesday's game with Philadelphia, 2 to 1. Tolman made both St. Louis runs. Terry was responsible for the loss of his own game in the ninth, passing one batter, hitting another and allowing Walker's return on Scher's single to get away from him. Tolman scored on the play. Score: Philadelphia 1, St. Louis 2.

CUBS MAKE IN THREE STRAIGHT FROM BOSTON

BOSTON.—Chicago on Wednesday made its three straight from Boston, winning, 1 to 0. Jim Vaughn's first start since Memorial day in Chicago, making his seventh straight victory. Gschlager held Chicago to three hits. Score: Chicago 1, Boston 0.

MILWAUKEE LOSES HARD GAME TO MUDHENS, 2-1

CHICAGO.—Jack Dunn and his trusty 200 of Braves baseball men again went over to defeat at the hands of the Mudhens here Wednesday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1.

Scoring in the first round the Milwaukeeans were held scoreless from then on, while the home side sent two runs across the plate, which capped for them the contest, thus secured victory.

Today, with this victory, was a good clutch on second place and the Brewers will have to do some tall hustling to stop the Hens and take the second position away from them.

Thursday will be an off day for the Brewers, who will have a day's rest before meeting up with the Athletics on Friday at the St. Paul ballpark. For the Milwaukeeans, however, the season is not over. The Brewers' home ground in a four game series. Two of these games will be played on Sunday, when the Milwaukeeans will be treated to a double header.

The 1st Year, former Winnipeg star, who selected Egan to face the Hens in the third inning, while McCall was chosen to finger Breckman to face the Brewers. The Hens scored their runs in the fifth and seventh innings. Miller at fourth night bats and McCall gave the Hens only six.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS FLOCK TO PICNIC AT BLACK CREEK

GATHERING OF FARMERS IS FEATURING BY SALE OF FOURTEEN PURE BRED SIRE

The Holstein breeders' picnic Wednesday at the George I. Sasman farm, Black Creek, was a pronounced success in spite of the inclement weather. Between seven and eight hundred farmers and their families from all parts of the county attended.

The feature of the picnic was the sale of 14 pure bred Holstein bulls. Bidding was lively under the direction of Julius H. Benhardt, Neenah. The animals brought prices ranging from $100 to $350, or an average of $180 apiece. Paul Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, acted as pedigree man during the sale.

Study Food Values.
D. D. Atkins, Flint, Mich., president of the National Holstein Breeders' association, gave a stirring talk to the farmers on the value of the dairy industry and each man's responsibility toward promoting it. He stated that the prices of dairy products were determined largely by the extent to which the consuming public learns their food value. He frankly told them that the preaching of the food value gospel of dairy products must begin with the farmer himself. He declared the custom of many farmers in using substitutes such as oleomargarine and other products which have appeared on the market as substitutes for butter, milk, cheese and so forth.

There would be no slump in the dairy business, Mr. Atkins said, if each farmer would do his part to extend the dairy business.

The Labor Situation.
Speaking of the labor situation, Mr. Atkins said the only solution was to place the dairy business on the same efficiency basis as is found in the manufacturing plants. If this was done, he said, the farmer could then tell his hired men that they would be offered the same inducements in the dairy business that they found in automobile plants or anywhere else where high wages were paid. A study of methods, costs and selling prices was urged by the speaker. He also made much of the point that this generation would never see the demand for pure bred cattle satisfied.

The picnic was kept lively by the Seymour band which furnished almost a continuous concert. Most of the families brought both dinner and supper. A tug of war was held between the farmers of Black Creek and a team representing four other towns of the county. The rope broke twice, sending the "warriors" tumbling in all directions. Black Creek was proclaimed the victor.

Breeders were well satisfied with the prices obtained for their sires at the sale, although there was a wide variation in prices. It was the first of its kind in the county. The Sasman family who entertained the picnic, contributed largely to the success of the outing by their efforts.

RETURN BALLOTS ON STATE SENATOR VOTE

The ballots recently sent out by the Fourteenth Senatorial District Unit of the Organized Farmer and Labor League in the Rohm-Ballard referendum for state senator are now being returned and will be counted at the next meeting which will be held Saturday evening, July 3. Ballots were mailed to members in both Outagamie and Shawano counties.

ZOLL WORKS HARD FOR MATCH WITH AHRENS

Martin Zoll, who wrestles Eddie Ahrens in a handicap match at Stammer's hall, Apple Creek, Saturday night, is taking no chances of losing the scrap. He is working out daily with his big brother, Carl Zoll, and is said to be in first class shape. Ahrens also is taking daily workouts and hopes to remain on his feet for an hour. Zoll has agreed to throw him twice within an hour. The winner will receive 60 per cent of the gate receipts.

Mrs. Harry A. Schlegel has returned from Chicago, where she spent several days on business. She is moving her millinery business today from 718 College avenue to the shop formerly owned by Miss Mary Langdon, which she recently purchased.

GRAIN PRICES FALL ON CHICAGO MARKET

HEAVY SELLING AND LARGER RECEIPTS CAUSE DECLINE IN GRAIN FUTURES.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — Larger receipts and heavy selling forced prices down on the Chicago board of trade today. Reports of bad weather in the grain sections offset to a considerable extent the heavy selling.

Reports of good demand for corn on the Pacific coast prevented sensational declines, traders said.

Corn, July, opened at $1.78 1/4 and closed at $1.77 1/4, down 1 1/4. September corn opened at $1.78 1/4 and closed down 1 1/4 at $1.67 1/4.

July oats closed at $1.02 1/4, 1/2 below the opening of $1.03 1/4. September oats opened at $1.02 and closed at $1.01 1/4, down 1/4.

Provisions were lower.

RAIN HALTS SESSION OF BADGER BANKERS

North Lake, Wis. A severe rain storm at noon on Wednesday broke up the first session of the Wisconsin Bankers' association convention which was being held in a tent here. Some of the delegates Wednesday afternoon visited the Fred Pahl and Corporation Stock company's farms, while others attended committee meetings. The sessions will be resumed on Thursday.

Caution and conservation in all lines of business was urged in the address of Walter L. Sprecker of Independence, president of the association.

"It is a day for calm and straight thinking and most certainly not a time for exciting comments," he said.

"The man of the hour is he who can nearest judge if the demand for credit, if the prices of commodities have reached the highest peak. The real test for business houses will come when prices begin to fall."

PROGRESSIVES LINE UP BEHIND HARDING

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE ENLISTS SUPPORT OF BULL MOOSE LEADER IN HIS CAMPAIGN.

(By Raymond Clapper.)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—A movement to unite solidly behind the presidential candidacy of Senator Warren G. Harding, former Bull Mooseers as well as the more conservative republicans, was under way today.

The decision to start such a movement was apparently reached by Harding himself and is the first important one of his presidential campaign.

Walter F. Brown, Toledo, who was active in the Bull Moose movement in 1912, has been assigned the job of winning the active support of all progressives.

Brown was prepared to go out on his mission today.

"I think you will find that the progressives will be united behind Senator Harding," Brown said today.

PLANTZ AND KESMAN AS COMMENCEMENT ORATORS

COMPERS LOSES FIGHT IN UNION CONVENTION

men, Martin F. Ryan, of the railway carmen and Martin Lawler, of the United Hatter union.

Endorses Plumb Plan

The final vote was on the adoption of the minority report. President Samuel Compers early in today's session, sought to get members of the minority on record as to whether they intended the minority report as a counter-argument specifically to the Plumb plan.

Most delegates to the convention regard the resolution as a direct endorsement of the Plumb plan.

James Duncan, vice-president of the federation, voted no on the minority report. Duncan recently was appointed a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Smoke a Little Hastily.

John Brougher says this one: One colored gent said to another: "I've thine I love my freedom and kiss her, she has eggs and spurs and a gun." To which the other responded: "I say she does." "Hith," asked the beholder, "swam, as has you took on a little? I say, does she?" was the eager change in the response.—Houston Post.

Issuing an "Extra" in Bano.

The editor of the Bano Daily News (Africa) does not have to trouble over such matters as circulation or the high cost of paper. When he gets a piece of news he smooths off some clabs of wood, writes up the story in his best editorial style, and then gives the slabs to his office boy, who runs off with them and hangs them in conspicuous places so that he who reads may read.

Good Taste.

Good taste is the conscience of the mind. Low life's definition is: "conscience of thought and is worth dwelling upon. Good taste is a trait we all agree in valuing, though its meaning as a rule is rather vaguely felt; we prize its cultivation and admire its exercise but the quality itself is generally less analyzed than desired.—Hartley Alexander.

Flico-Crack Paper.

This is made from one pound of flour rubbed smoothly in a little water. Add three quarts of boiling water and set on stove. Stir in one tablespoonful of powdered alum, together with bits of torn newspapers, and cook until the mass is smooth and thick as putty. Use to fill the gaping cracks between the boards of old floors.

FEIVOLOUS YOUTH MURDERS HIS WIFE

Bennington, Vt.—Byron Madison Pettibone, undertaker's assistant, was a frivolous youth, according to allegations made by the state in charges of wife murder brought against him.

Pettibone pursued his courtship of Helen Irene Brown, a pretty nurse, as they rode on top of a hearse, carrying a body, the state alleges.

He showered his wife with kisses, as she watched death approach, of ficials claim.

Pettibone, according to police, admitted poisoning his wife.

St. Botolph's Town.

Boston or St. Botolph's Town is a seaport in Lincolnshire, England, on the River Witham, and four miles from its mouth, with a wharfage of 2,330 feet. In the days of the Romans it was one of the chief British seaports, but the silting in of the river has been an obstacle to its growth of late years, almost continual dredging being necessary to keep a passage to the sea, even for small vessels. Its church tower, St. Botolph's, is a well known conspicuous landmark, depended upon also by mariners at sea.

Employees' Initiative.

Nothing pleases an employer more than to find that employees have been useful and helpful in doing things that they were not told to do. It shows the spirit of initiative; it indicates the ambition to get on; a willingness to pay the price. The progressive employer has little use for the employee who never does anything he is not told to do. Originality, inventiveness, resourcefulness are passports to his favor—and to promotion.—The New Success.

Warm and Cool Colors.

The warm or advancing colors, which arouse the senses quickly, are those having yellow or red predominating, as yellow green, yellow orange, orange, red orange, red and red violet. The cool or receding colors, which soothe the nerve senses, are blue and the colors in which blue predominates, as blue green, green violet and blue violet. They are called cool colors because of their association with water, ice and the sky.

"What's in a Name?"

The French island of Reunion has changed its name four times in 50 years. In 1793 it was Bourbon, as it had been for a century and a half, but the convention changed it to Reunion. Under the empire it became Isle Bourbon; at the Restoration it reverted to Bourbon. Finally, in 1848, it became Reunion once more.

History and Material Wealth.

It is time we remembered that history does not concern herself about material wealth—that the life-blood of a nation is not that yellow tide which fluctuates in the arteries of trade—that its true revenues are religion, justice, sobriety, magnanimity, and the fair amenities of art.—Lowell.

ELWELL'S "ANNA" FAILS TO THROW LIGHT ON MURDER

would be asked again regarding his movements after he left the Ritz Carlton Friday night.

Von Schlegel was with a "woman in black" from Minneapolis while the Elwell party was at another table in the same dining room. Miss Krauss denied reports that the party was held to celebrate her divorce.

Testimony Contradicted.

The incident of Elwell and Von Schlegel meeting on the dance floor of the Ritz was also to be gone into more thoroughly, Swann said. Von Schlegel told authorities that he had said "Hello Joe" to Elwell and the gambler replied pleasantly.

This was contradicted by Walter Lewisohn, a member of the Elwell party, who said the gambler ignored Von Schlegel. Among the others who were questioned today were Andrew T. Soeller, betting commissioner for Elwell; Philip Bender, driver of the taxicab, who took members of the Elwell party home, and Frank Edson, an attorney.

Get Little Evidence.

Little evidence was obtained, Swann stated.

Swann today settled an argument between two members of his staff regarding who should conduct the investigation by assuming charge himself.

New York—Mrs. Helen Elwell, widow of the murdered whist wizard, when asked by Dist. Atty. Edward Swann to appear at his office today for further questioning, asked to be excused. Pressed for a reason, she said she was teaching a class of young society girls how to play bridge and today was "class day."

The reason was deemed sufficient by Swann and she was released to appear tomorrow.

Von Schlegel arrived at the district attorney's office shortly before 1 p. m. When questioned by newspapermen he said that he could add nothing additional to what he had furnished the officials.

Developments today followed announcement that Elwell's housekeeper had revealed to authorities the name of the girl who owned the night gown, slippers and boudoir cap found in Elwell's home. She had previously attempted to shield the girl by hiding the garments, she admitted.

Housekeeper Tells Secret.

New York.—The girl who owned the pink silk night gown, boudoir cap and slippers found in the home of Joseph B. Elwell, slain whist expert, was known to authorities today.

Detectives were searching for her and District Attorney John Dooling hoped to question her during the day.

The girl's name was revealed by Mrs. Marie Larsen, housekeeper for Elwell.

The housekeeper reluctantly admitted when she first entered the house Friday morning and found her employer unconscious in a chair, her first thought was to shield the girl.

"You hid the garments, didn't you?" Dooling asked.

"Yes, but I hid nothing else," she replied.

She insisted she did not see the revolver with which Elwell was shot and which authorities have been unable to locate.

Mrs. Larsen said she was not asked by the girl to hide the clothes.

"I thought it would not be nice for them to be found there," she said.

Frequent Visitor.

Mrs. Larsen said the girl often spent the mornings with Elwell and that she frequently prepared meals for them. The girl had been in the house about two weeks previously, Mrs. Larsen said.

Information was obtained by authorities indicating the owner of the cap, night robe and slippers spent Thursday night at the Elwell home. Although the bed was made up, Mrs. Larsen said she had "fixed up the room a bit" before the authorities arrived. She was unable to say whether the bed had been slept in that night, but believed it had.

Authorities still awaited word from detectives sent to Lexington, Ky., to investigate promising leads there.

Mrs. Larsen was reported to have admitted she had seen a letter written by "Anna," the Kentucky girl, appealing to Elwell for assistance.

Look For Developments.

Important developments in the case today were predicted by Assistant District Attorney Joyce.

No evidence has been obtained of Elwell's movements from the time he left the Lewisohn party at 2:30 a. m., until he was found dead shortly before 8 a. m. with the exception of the statement of a neighbor that saw Elwell coming home at 3:30. Mrs. Elwell, who has been living apart from her husband for eight years, was questioned at length last night. She told of Elwell asking her to obtain a divorce and she said she had consented.

Dr. Charles Norris, who conducted the autopsy, today reported that it was certain Elwell had been murdered. He based his conclusion on the missing revolver and because there were no powder burns around the wound.

Lacemaking in China.

Foreign missionaries in Chefoo, Shanghai, Foochow, Amoy and Swatow have introduced lacemaking among the Chinese women, and considerable lace has been exported from time to time. Silk, linen and cotton thread is used in Chefoo, and linen and cotton in the other places. The lace is made more cheaply than is possible elsewhere because of the low wages paid in China, but a lack of enterprise in changing patterns to meet changing tastes and fashions abroad prevents the industry from assuming larger proportions.

TAFT'S DAUGHTER TO WED IN JULY

Helen Taft and F. J. Manning. Helen Taft, daughter of the president, is to be married in July to Frederick Johnson Manning, instructor of history at Yale. Their engagement has just been announced. Manning served as an officer of the artillery during the war. Miss Taft is acting president of Bryn Mawr college.

WATERWORKS BOARD HOLDS A MEETING

The Appleton Water commission held a meeting at the city hall Wednesday afternoon at which bills for the month of May were allowed in the sum of $8,253.11. The payroll for the first two weeks of June was allowed at $1,083.34. Bids for 150 tons of coal for the pumping station and filtration plant were $12.50 per ton and it was decided to divide the contract between the different dealers. It was decided to request an appropriation of $4,000 from the common council for the purchase of an auxiliary pumping unit. It was recommended that the petition of property owners on Eli and Alvin streets be granted. It was decided to advertise for bids for trenching for additional water mains. Bids will also be accepted for a carload of six-inch cast iron pipe.

CHINESE STUDENT IS GRATEFUL FOR PRIZE

Yu Sheng Huang, Chinese student at Lawrence college, was presented with a $50 check this morning by Fred Felix Wettengel as first prize in oratory. He expressed his appreciation by presenting Mr. Wettengel with a copy of a painting by Miss Yu, famous Chinese naturalist painter. He also wrote a message of thanks in Chinese on a sheet of hand-decorated Chinese stationery.

Herman J. Kamps, county clerk, has just received a quantity of supplies for the new dog license law that goes into effect July 1 and requests city, village and town clerks to place their orders at once.

Really a Cut Price.

Charles had just been vaccinated, and as a reward for his bravery the doctor gave him a quarter. "Thank you for the quarter," said Charles, winking back his tears, "but it was worth a dollar."

Honery First Requisite.

It would be an unspendable advantage, both to the public and private; if men would consider that great truth, that no man is wise or safe but he that is honest.—Sir Walter Raleigh.

For Hoarseness.

Hoarseness can be relieved by mixing one teaspoonful of glycerin to the well-beaten white of an egg, the juice of one lemon and enough sugar to make it palatable.

Most Valuable Diamonds.

Diamonds are found with a wide variety of coloring but those that are virtually colorless but which are spoken of as being blue-white are most valuable.

Simple Duty.

What does a man more than his simple duty in coming out for the right? Besides is it any sacrifice to be in the right?—Lowell.

Look on the Best Side.

What an absurd thing it is to pass over all the valuable parts of a man and fix our attention on his infirmities!

Daily Thought.

What a man thinks in his spirit in the world, that he does after his departure from the world when he becomes a spirit.—Swedenborg.

CANADIANS TIRED OF BRITISH RULE

By United Press Licensed Wire
Boston, Mass.—"Canada, like Ireland, is going to declare herself independent of Great Britain within a measurable period of time," according to Lindsay Crawford, editor of the Toronto New Statesman, who spoke at the banquet in commemoration of the battle of Bunker Hill at the Jefferson Club here.

"The Canadian soldiers on their return home from the world war," continued the editor, "resolved that their home land shall not remain a British colony."

KRAUSE ADMITS GUILT IN LIQUOR ROBBERY

George Krause, who was implicated in the recent liquor robberies and who is charged with accessory to the fact, pleaded guilty when arraigned in municipal court this morning. Sentence was held open by the court.

Building.

Our lives are like buildings going up, and every one who comes to us, whether for a prolonged stay or only for a few moments, puts something into the walls or into the adornment. Our friends, if they are worthy, exert a measureless influence over us.

Entire Village of Wood.

The Russian village is built principally of wood and roofed with wood, or with straw and stones. For this reason there are so many fires that, according to statistics, one-fifth of all the peasant cottages burn down every year, or putting it in another way, every house burns down after five years. This seems improbable, but it is reliable information.

Seems to Be General Opinion.

"Tell me what company you keep, and I will tell you what you are," is a proverb that is found in similar form among the French, Spanish, Italians, Dutch and others. Anything so widely accepted must be true.

Practice Cheerfulness.

A sunny, cheerful view of life, resting on truth and fact, co-existing with practical aspiration ever to make things, men and self better than they are—this is the true, healthful poetry of existence.—Robertson.

Long-Lived Jews.

Jews can boast of an average longer life than any other race. They have always enjoyed remarkable immunity from tuberculosis, cholera and typhus.

The savings division of the U. S. Treasury Department reports that five states, by legislative action, have made thrift instruction compulsory.

DENNIS MEIDAM IS HONORED BY G.A.R.

By United Press Licensed Wire
Baraboo, Wis.—W. O. Pritzsch, of Madison was elected Wisconsin department commander of the G. A. R. at the annual convention which closed here last night. Other officers elected were:

Senior vice-president: M. L. Snyder, Wausau; Junior vice-commander, Dennis Meidam, Appleton; Chaplain, Rev. A. J. Hood; medical director, Dr. H. R. Rind, of Madison.

Birth of Republican Party.

In 1854, on the 6th of July, the present Republican party was founded and organized. It adopted an anti-slavery platform. The first national convention was held two years later. John Fremont was nominated for president.

Why Called "House Leek."

The leek, it is said, is called house leek because it was formerly common in the north of England to plant the house leek on the roofs of cottages as it was supposed that the leeks were protection against thunder and lightning.

LEGION MEETING IS POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The meeting of the Oney Johnston post of the American Legion announced for this evening at the armory has been postponed until Thursday, June 24. At that time plans will be completed for attendance at the state convention, which starts at Green Bay June 29.

What Is Man?

Break the shells of 1,000 eggs into a huge pan or basin, and you have the contents to make a man from his toenails to the most delicate tissues of his brain. And this is the scientific answer to the question, "What is man?"

MULTIPLICITY OF CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR'S JOB

INTERESTING BATTLE WITHIN THE LA FOLLETTE RANKS IS RAISING A PROPOSING

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison—There is a feeling here today that Attorney General Blaine, endorsed by the Non-Partisan League yesterday, will enter the campaign for governor if he secures the endorsement of other organizations, such as labor and other farm societies.

There seems to be no probability that Senator La Follette will enter the gubernatorial contest. Some of his friends have urged him for the position, in order to iron out the wrinkles in the La Follette political situation. No word has been received here from the senator on the Wisconsin political situation. He is not expected back from Rochester for another week, although those who seem to be in a position to know indicate that Senator La Follette may favor the candidacy of Attorney General Blaine for governor.

Dithmar in Field
 Lieut. Gov. E. F. Dithmar is already in the field. There is talk here that if Gov. Philipp announces his candidacy for the office again that Francis E. McGovern will be in the gubernatorial contest. Mr. McGovern attended the republican convention at Chicago last week. He intimated there that he intended to come back to Wisconsin to take a hand in state politics.

Cary May Get In
 The governorship situation found a new possibility to talk about today. There was a rumor current that C. P. Cary, state superintendent of schools, might enter the race. This will only be in the case there is a multiplicity of candidates.

Political opinion here is to the effect that Senator La Follette will make an effort to iron out the situation when he comes back. The senator is being deluged with letters and telegrams asking him to be third party candidate for president and most of his friends think that he will give greater attention to this call. They do not believe that he will run for governor, although many of his leaders have urged him to get into the gubernatorial race. This talk of the senator for governor came before the Chicago convention, and it is claimed that the national situation has put a different color on the situation.

Two Candidates Working
 Senator Roy P. Wilcox is already campaigning in the state as is J. N. Titterton, the Equity candidate. If the Non-Partisan League endorses Blaine today, the political waters claim it will be significant as indicating the way the senator intends to turn his forces. Blaine seems most likely as the man who will be handed the standard by Senator La Follette.

SEVEN DAY ADVENTISTS PLAN MEETING IN MADISON

Madison—Arrangements have been completed for holding the annual camp-meeting of the South Wisconsin conference of Seventh-day Adventists in Madison, which will continue for ten days, from June 24 to July 4. The camp will be located on the Fair grounds on the south side of the city, and just a little way to the right from the end of the South Madison street car line. A city of 125 tents will be erected to accommodate those who are coming from many different parts of the state. Among the cities that will be represented in the gathering will be Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Grand Rapids, Racine, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Watertown, Stevens Point, Sheboygan, Marshfield, Appleton, Janesville, La Crosse, Eau Claire, Beloit and many other places.

Besides the 125 tents for living places which will be arranged in orderly fashion, there will also be pitched large canvas pavilions for the main business sessions, and for preaching purposes, meetings for the young people and children, services in other languages; a dining tent where meals will be served on the cafeteria plan; a literature tent where Bibles, gospel books, periodicals, and tracts will be on exhibition, and a reception tent where visitors can rest.

INSECT THREATENS TO SPOIL THE APPLE CROP

Watertown—The apple crop of southern Wisconsin is seriously threatened by an insect, the inroads of which are devastating many orchards in Jefferson, Dodge and nearby counties. The insect spins a thin web over the leaves, which causes the leaves to shrivel and die, thereby shutting off the air supply of the trees and causing immature fruit to drop. Agents of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin are investigating and will suggest preventative methods to farmers located in the affected area. The attack seems to be especially heavy between Watertown, Hustisford and Milford and the pest is spreading to other than apple and other fruit trees.

market of F. Shellfeffer, here, falling a distance of six feet. She was unconscious when picked up. A fractured shoulder and a lacerated scalp are among the injuries.

Is Every Little Task a Burden?

To the woman worn out with weak kidneys, housework is a heavy burden. Backache, sick headaches, "blues," nervousness, dizziness, and a weak, tired condition, make the simplest tasks difficult and the daily duties save the weakened kidneys no time to recover. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have brought relief and comfort to thousands of weak, suffering women. Ask your neighbor.

How an Appleton Woman Was Freed

Mrs. W. H. Kramer, 515 Hancock st., says: "I suffered from rheumatic and kidney trouble for several years. At times, I was so lame, I couldn't do my housework. I had pains in all parts of my body and headaches and dizzy spells left me entirely unfit for any work. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was soon better in every way. I give Doan's all the credit for my recovery."

more Firestone Cord Tires sold from November 1st to April 30th than for the corresponding period last year—more than five to one.

Because five men are buying Firestone Cords for every one that bought last year—or because the men who tried a Firestone Cord last year are equipping all 'round, including spares, this year.

Because the Firestone Cord Tire, first of the new standard oversize, proved the extra value in more material, greater air capacity—more mileage for your money.

Because, last year's pioneer is this year's leader!

 LIPTON'S RACER TO BE GIVEN FIRST TRIAL RUN
 By United Press Leased Wire
 New York.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the American cup, Shamrock IV, will sail her first trial race here with her 23 metre running mate, Shamrock, tomorrow, when the two meet off Sandy Hook.
 A trial was to be held today, but it was found that on account of the time occupied in the fitting of top masts and other details the boats would have to remain at anchor.
RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER
 Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.
 Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.
 Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.
 Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schilntz Brothers Co., and Voigt's Drug Store to guarantee it in every instance. adv.

ABOUT TOWN
SCOUT LEADER COMING—Earl R. Henderson of Chicago, the new Boy Scout executive, is expected to arrive here Monday to assume his new duties. Reorganization of the scouts for a vacation program will probably take place as soon as he takes charge.
FISHING TRIP—Capt. George Merkel, J. C. Pfeil, and Robert Merkel of Appleton and William Klippel of Richfield will leave Monday for Lake Isadore and Lake Martin in Taylor county on a ten days' fishing trip. They will occupy a cottage owned by Herman Dumke of Medford, which has been placed at their disposal. It is possible that they will invest in land in that county which is rapidly increasing in value.
CHANGE LOCATION—The Wisconsin Northern Oil company filed an amendment to its articles of incorporation with A. G. Koch, register of deeds, Wednesday changing the location of its principal office from Appleton to Menasha. The instrument was signed by A. R. Berger, president, and Charles M. Gosnell, secretary.

SCHOOL NURSE IS GIVEN INCREASE IN PAY BY COUNCIL

VISITING NURSE'S SERVICES ARE DISCONTINUED WITH COUNCIL. HELD A BRIEF SESSION

No business of special importance came before the common council Wednesday night and the session was comparatively short. The ordinance relating to motor busses which makes it necessary for the owner to obtain the consent of the aldermen before operating them in the city was given its final reading. It was brought out that the bus now running between Appleton and Kaukauna is being operated under a Racine permit. Miss Helen Revett, school nurse was granted an increase of salary of $25 per month upon reconsideration of the action taken at a former meeting. A protest from the "Woman's club" relative to the council's former refusal to grant the increase was placed on file. The recommendation of the health officer to temporarily discontinue the services of the city nurse now that the number of contagious diseases are decreasing was adopted.

An appropriation of $1,000 was made to the Appleton water commission for the purpose of providing an auxiliary pumping unit consisting of a centrifugal pump and electric motor to be used in cases of emergency. Extensions of water mains on several streets was authorized. The aldermen accepted the invitation of George P. McGillan, chief of the fire department to attend the official test of the new motor pumping engine of the No. 2 department which is to be made at the government canal at seven o'clock this evening.

Many Petitions Filed. Petitions for extension of sidewalks on North Division and Gilmore streets were referred to the street committee. A petition for water service on Maple street from Jefferson to Jackson streets was referred to the water commission. A resolution favoring the extension of the sewer on Durkee street north to Pacific street was adopted. An underground gasoline tank was ordered built at the No. 2 engine house. Applications for licenses for sewer diggers, peddlars and for the operation of a pool table were referred to the license committee.

COUNTESS OF MANY ADVENTURES MAY ENTER THE MOVIES

Provide For Fire House. One thousand dollars was appropriated for a site for the No. 3 engine house in Edward West's plat in the Fourth ward. The interior of the police station was ordered painted and the floor oiled. Recommendation of the committee on public grounds and buildings for erection of public service buildings at the city park and Jones park was adopted. The regular monthly accounts were allowed. Plans and specifications for a new sewer on Lafayette street were adopted. George T. Prim, chief of the police department was granted a several days' leave of absence to attend the annual convention of heads of police departments of the state at Milwaukee next week.

29 Want Licenses. Applications for Class "A" licenses for handling malt beverages and beverages containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol were referred to the license committee. The applicants were: Louis Weber, William Ergert, Peter Vanderhever, Peter Sauter, J. R. Schimok Miller & Zuehlke, John Reck, Joseph Helmrath, John Gerrits, Peter Stark, Schneider & Fries, John Bekel, Joseph Becker, R. W. Gitter, Edward Zuehlke, Emil Schultz, C. Wettengel, A. A. Koehne, George Wiegand, John Gassner, Francis Fose, Myse & Rule, H. Krause, A. T. Jens, Uckerman's grocery, H. Campbell, William Pries, Charles Moder, George Frazer and John Sigl.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for coal for next year. Because the next regular meeting of the council does not occur until after July 4, it was decided to pay the city employees their regular monthly salaries on July 3. An adjournment was taken until Tuesday, June 29, at which time the saloon licenses will be acted upon.

The Saturday schedule follows: Kimberly-Clark vs. Appleton Machine Co., 3:30 o'clock at Kimberly; Appleton Coated Paper Co. vs. Eagle Mfg. Co., 3:30 o'clock at city ball park; Valley Iron Works vs. Interlake, 3:30 o'clock at Interlake park; Northern Boiler Works vs. Appleton Woolen Mills, 2:00 o'clock at Interlake park; Appleton Wire Works vs. Patterson Plumbing Co., 3:00 o'clock at Fourth ward; Fox River Paper Co. vs. Union Bag and Paper Co., 3:30 o'clock at Lawrence field.

AUTOISTS WANT BUGGY OWNERS TO CARRY LIGHTS

Automobile owners are complaining because horse drawn rigs using the county roads at night bear no lights. Carriages are hard to see until the automobile is almost upon them. One driver states that he encountered two of them on the Little Chute road one evening and nearly crashed into both before he saw them. He stated that if he had been a reckless driver serious accidents would have occurred. There is no law compelling owners of these vehicles to place lights on them, but motorists would like to see it done as a matter of safety. One light on the left side showing red at the rear, it is said, would answer the purpose.

The value of farm lands has advanced in the last year at the rate of $63 an acre.

VETERANS RUSH TO KEEP UP INSURANCE

FORMER SERVICE MEN ARE ANXIOUS TO REINSTATE POLICIES BEFORE TIME LIMIT EXPIRES

Ex-service men are flocking to the Home Service office of the Red Cross in response to the warning that war risk insurance could not be reinstated after July 1. The terms of the bureau is that any soldier or sailor may resume his policy no matter how long ago he dropped it, providing he fills out a reinstatement blank and pays two months' premiums. This must be done 18 months after a man is discharged. July first is the time limit for most of the ex-service men and the Home Service office is therefore notifying everybody so none will lose opportunity to keep up the government insurance.

A liberal choice of policies is provided by the bureau, with several plans of payment of premiums. It is also possible to arrange payment of insurance to beneficiaries in one lump sum instead of in monthly installments. Full information and necessary blanks are on hand at the Home Service office.

DRYS WILL PLACE TICKET IN FIELD

Madison, Wis.—Prohibitionists of Wisconsin will gather here Wednesday for what will probably be the last state convention of the party. The convention will nominate a state ticket, draft a platform and determine future policy. The ticket will be filed for the September primary.

It is generally conceded, however, that if either of the two larger parties should declare for strict enforcement and nominate candidates in harmony therewith, the Prohibition ticket will be withdrawn. It is not expected by Prohibition leaders that this will be done.

Probably where individual candidates, nominated by other parties, are openly in sympathy with prohibition, the opposing Prohibition candidate will be withdrawn.

WIND DOES DAMAGE BUT RAIN AIDS CROPS

Oshkosh—Combined wind, rain and lightning caused thousands of dollars' worth of damage in Winnebago county, when it tore limbs from trees, tipped over silos and broke telephone wires. But there was benefit to crops that fully offset that loss. The greatest amount of actual damage to buildings and trees by the winds was west of Oshkosh in the vicinity of Omro and Winneconne, although there was some damage in this city also. North and south of Oshkosh the rain did a vast amount of good and gave crops a much needed watering.

INDIANA GIRL AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP AT U. OF W.

Madison—Miss Marjorie Six of Logansport, Ind., junior in the course in home economics, has been awarded the Sharples scholarship in the college.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

lege of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. The purpose of the scholarship which is given by the Sharples Separator Co. is to encourage young women, not only to make a study of the production of dairy products and their value as food, but to equip themselves to engage after graduation in public service work in helping to educate the American public to the necessity of a greater and more intelligent consumption of dairy products. The scholarship amounts to $500.

TRAM CAR TICKETS ARE LEGAL TENDER

SHORTAGE OF SMALL COINS FOR CHANGE IN MEXICO LEADS TO THEIR USE IN BUSINESS HOUSES

By Ralph H. Turner
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
City of Mexico.—Having made a ten-cent purchase, the resident of Mexico City extends the store-keeper a 50-centavo or one peso bill. He waits for change. The clerk, fumbling in his pocket or the cash drawer, produces a stack of street car tickets. The proper change is counted out, in tickets, the customer pockets them and the transaction is complete.

Such is the situation in Mexico today as regards small change.

Time was, a few weeks ago, when the customer would grumble at the sight of tram tickets given in exchange for real money—and tickets for which he had no earthly use. But one must learn to expect anything in Mexico and having learned to expect it, become reconciled to it.

The situation is improving, however. Not that there is any prospect of an increase in the amount of small change, but the outlook in that respect is as gloomy as ever but the tradesmen have agreed to accept the tickets as legal tender. When everyone in town had acquired so much "change" that there was no need of walking, even for a block, the rest of one's natural life, the merchants decided it was only fair that they take some of it back.

So now the senior-about-town pays for his cocktails in tram tickets and the woman in the market place lays down the same currency in payment for her vegetables.

Just why this change shortage should exist nobody seems to know. The people blame it on the government. Just as everything is blamed on governments in the world over, but the Ministry of the Treasury declares it has been issuing small bronze pieces in increasing amounts. The fact remains, whatever the cause, that almost every variety of "change" in Mexico is sold at a premium ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. overment authorities blame speculators for this condition. They have been hoarding the coins, it is declared, so as to exact a premium on their sale after they have cornered the market.

The shortage is greatest, and most annoying, in the case of 5, 10 and 20 cent bronze pieces. Formerly there were silver pieces, but these have disappeared altogether, just as the 50-cent silver coins disappeared when the government began to issue paper bills. Never was there a letter illustration of the economic theory that "cheap money" always crowds "high priced money" out of circulation.

Just now the situation shows no sign of relief.

The bootblack, when you hand him 50 cents, continues to give you a slip which is "good for another shine," declaring he has no change. While the beggar woman, when you brush her aside on the plea that you have no change, appeals to you irresistibly: "Then give me a street car ticket."

The Rev. Theo. Kersten performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white satin and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Van de Bogard, sister of the groom, wore a pink voile dress and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. William Hopfensperger, brother of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony the bridal party and about fifty relatives autographed the home of the bride, where a wedding dinner was served. In the

STRAWBERRY CROP IS EXPECTED TO BE LARGE

Tomah, Wis.—The harvest of Wisconsin's strawberry crop is on, and prospects point to one of the biggest crops ever grown. Growers are obliged to pay pickers 2 1/2 cents per quart, and fear they cannot secure enough at that price to harvest the crop. It is probable that a higher price will be paid to pickers before the close of the season. One and one-half cents a quart is the highest price previously.

Sunday night's rain did the ripening crop much good.

ESCH COMMENDS PLAN TO RETAIN TEACHERS

CONGRESSMAN QUOTES GENERAL HAAV ON NUMBER OF LITERATES IN THE U. S. ARMY

Tomah, Wis., Congressman John J. Esch of the seventh district commends the attitude of Wisconsin school boards in raising the salaries of teachers, and makes the following appeal:

"Maj. Gen. Haav, director of educational work in the army, told at a recent national conference on education held in this city, of the alarming amount of illiteracy and undereducation among enlisted boys. The same conditions were shown during the war to exist in the armies of our allies, England and France are reorganizing, developing and extending their educational systems.

"It seems to me that what our public school system most needs is to retain our good teachers, and to pay sufficient salaries to get enough more good teachers to fill our empty school houses.

"According to the Bureau of Education there were 1,800 school rooms empty for lack of teachers on Feb. 15, 1920. Wisconsin is showing her loyalty and patriotism by a general movement to secure the best teachers and in paying them adequate salaries."

RIOT OF CRAZY COLOR IN LONDON BATHING STYLES

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Life on England's sandy shores this summer promises to be just one gasp after another.

Bathing costumes unbelievable are beginning to glare upon a startled public from the "exclusive" store-windows. A recent exhibition of women's wear included a collection of weird and wonderful creations for the modern mermaid.

Futurists are catered to by costumes slashed helter-skelter with streaks of crazy color rioting regardless of blend or design.

One costume is of bright jade green, with a green-eyed black snake coiling round the bather's form. Another is designed to resemble some sort of sea-bee, being close-fitting from top to toe and covered with sapphire-blue and deep-green sequins.

Yet another aspires to make its wearer look like Joan of Arc—or maybe a really, truly mermaid—for its silver sequins are a cross between a suit of armor and a herring's skin.

It is expected that when the summer sylph makes her dive into the blue and briny, her bedazzled swain will catch his breath, she will catch

GREEN BAY ORGANIZES PUBLIC HEALTH CENTER

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Green Bay.—A noteworthy plan for concentrating all organized health activities at a single center is interesting state health authorities. The plan is now being carried out here, where the second floor of the city hall is being converted into a health center.

There will be grouped the city health department, under the management of a full time official (Dr. F. J. Goslin), a bacteriological laboratory for the health center, the state and federal venereal disease clinic, the quarters of the city nurses and social service workers, and dental and children's clinics maintained by civic organizations. This system is declared to be conducive to a high degree of efficiency in health administration and to place the health department on a more substantial basis along with the other divisions of the city government.

Among the advantages expected to accrue from this merging of common activities is a closer approach to complete reporting of communicable diseases. This is one of the objectives of the present health officer.

The Green Bay health department, it is declared, now ranks among the foremost municipal departments in the state, with a smooth working organization manned by a full time official, and enough divisions of the work to answer all demands arising.

RIFLE CAMP AT DOUGLAS MAY OPEN ABOUT JULY 12

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison.—July 12 may be the date set for a rifle camp to be held at the Wisconsin Military Reservation, Camp Douglas. If held each company in the national guard will have the privilege of sending two competitors to try out for the state team to enter the National Match to be fired at Camp Perry, Ohio, in August. An erroneous opinion was obtained at the officers' school at Camp Douglas that members of the team would have to remain at Camp Perry from July 30 to Aug. 23. This applies only to civilian teams, and even those will not have to be there that length of time, although they will lose their transportation and subsistence if they are not, the exception being that a competitor or two may report a few days later and not affect the team's a young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce who afterward moved to Buffalo, N. Y. He made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and he put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union.

50 Years Ago

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to. It is now sold by druggists in tablet form as well as liquid.

Waukegan, Wis.—"About eighteen years ago I was ill, doctor's medicine did not seem to give me the relief I thought I should have so I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured me in a short space of time. I have never had any return of my ailment."—Mrs. MINNIE BRANFLOTT, 730 Pleasant Street.

privileges. If a national guard team is sent it probably will be there the length of time the teams have been in the past, the practice and competition taking up about two more weeks. There will be 12 principals and 2 alternates on the teams.

Under the new national guard act passed by Congress any man who served in the army for six months can enlist in the guard for one year any time within two years of the date of his discharge. The act also provides more armory drill pay for both officers and enlisted men.

The reformatory school system originated in France.

Home With All Its Comforts

Electric lighting — an Electric Iron — an Electric Vacuum Cleaner — the Electric Reading Lamp—all are possible in the Home which is wired for Electricity.

By the Use of Electricity in the Home vistas of comfort undreamed of by those who dwell in houses lighted by old-fashioned methods are opened up. There are so many uses to which Electricity can be put that no modern home should even try to "get along" without it.

Do you realize how very little Electric installation costs? Most likely not. Its inexpensiveness is surprising to most people and may be so to you. Call 1005 and we will send our expert to "talk it over."
